The innocence of looking at a blooming tree!

We Hope All The Crazy April Weather Brings Us Many May Flowers!

WOW....where in the world did April go?

Just like that, we are down to our final month of school! This brings us both joy, that the children have grown, learned and had fun while preparing for the next chapter in their lives and sadness, to see them move on, because they have been such an amazing group this year. We will miss them tremendously and wish them all the best in their future years to come. We THANK YOU all for entrusting us with your precious children this year and for being such amazing families!
